

Tags

Edited Feb 21, 2021 5:10 AM by admin...

e2: state of resolve

e2 state of resolve:

http://physics.hpa.edu/physics/apenvsci/videos/e2_videos/e2%20energy/

APES questions energy 4 state of resolve

1. What is the double entendre in “left coast”? “Fruits and nuts”?
2. If you have ever been to LA, would you describe it as a pedestrian friendly city? How did this evolve, and why is it key to urban sprawl?
3. What is the advantage of CA vs. the government vis a vis change and action?
4. This was filmed in 2007. Who was president then? Did he support emission standards? Explain.
5. it is said that what happens in CA is what will happen in the US ten years later. Why?
6. Look up Fran Pavley, and see what has happened since the video was produced.
7. What percentage of US cars are sold in CA?
8. Car manufacturers used to produce two models of car: “CA” and “49 states”. Why don’t they do this now?
9. What is the #2 polluter in CA? What did they do about this?
10. What did Senate bill 1368 do? Why? What economic driver does this present?
11. What the heck is “dirty energy”? What does Dan Kammen (Go Bears) say about this?
12. How is the dirty energy plan like the car plan in how it might lead change in the US?
13. Why are subsidies bad?
14. What are the 5 parts of the CA plan?
15. The price of PV panels in 2008 (when the elab was being built) was $10/Watt. What is the price per Watt for PV panels now? Why?
16. What is the million roof plan in CA?
17. Who replaced Bodman as Secretary of Energy? What was his strength?
18. How much money have oil companies contributed to political campaigns, and how many dollars did they get back for every dollar invested in these campaigns?
19. What does Kammen say about voluntary compliance? Do you agree?
20. President Bush declared in 2007 that global climate change is a problem. Why are some folks still resisting this admission?

21. What percentage of the global population is the US, and how much energy do we use?
22. What does a large state like CA enable other states to do? How does it exclude any excuses?